Description of Property and Eligibility Determination: (Use continuation sheet if necessary and attach map and photo)
The Ensor-Robinson Residence, the only structure on the property, is oriented to the east and located adjacent to MD 30 (Hanover Pike). It is a frame, side-gable structure and was either built near the site of an older structure, or is a highly modified, nineteenth-century structure attributed to J. Pottery (Stephens, An Illustrated Atlas of Carroll County, Hampstead District). It has been encased with vinyl siding, and all original fenestration replaced with vinyl sash. A number of windows have been removed or modified---in the east entrance façade the end windows on the second level have been shortened, one window on the first floor has been removed, and a number of windows in the gable ends removed. On the rear elevation a number of sash have been replaced. The overall form of the structure appears to have been modified, with the building extended to the rear with an addition that continues the slope of the roof, resulting in a second level overhanging the first. The hip-roof porch is carried on replacement lathe-turned colonnettes.
The site has been analyzed within the context of the Industrial/Urban Dominance Period (1870-1930), and the Modern Era (1930-Present) within Carroll County. The Ensor/Robinson Residence is located south of Hampstead near the division between Baltimore and Carroll Counties. The greatly modified property structure lacks the level of integrity necessary for listing on the National Register of Historic Places as an historic standing structure. In addition, it has no significant association with the broad patterns of Carroll County, Maryland or National history. It lacks significant architectural distinction and therefore would not meet the National Register criterion C. In addition, it has no known significant association with important persons or events, nor would it likely have significant archeological associations because of its late construction date, thus it likely has little potential to meet the significance criterion D for listing in the National Register for its archeological potential.
